

MASTER OF EDUCATION IN TEACHING AND LEARNING

WITH A FOCUS ON ART EDUCATION

Joint Pathway with The Art of Education University and Waldorf University

An online degree pathway designed to meet your art-specific goals and state requirements.

The Art of Education University has partnered with Waldorf University to offer a regionally accredited Master of Education in Teaching and Learning. Students will start their degree journey by taking art education-focused courses at AOEU. Students will apply to Waldorf University and complete the remaining courses to earn a degree.

Earn a degree that's accredited by the Higher Learning Commission (HLC).

Waldorf University is accredited by the Higher Learning Commission (HLC), which is the regional accrediting agency for colleges and universities located in the Midwest region of the United States. Students who successfully complete this pathway will earn an official transcript and diploma from Waldorf University. Through this partnership, Waldorf University will accept 18 transfer credits completed through The Art of Education University.

Courses you love, a degree you need, and accreditation that can help you reach your goals!

» ALIGNED

The collaboration between AOEU and Waldorf University allows students to focus on art education while earning a regionally accredited master's degree.

» ENGAGING

Join AOEU's vibrant community of art teachers from across the United States and around the globe. Apply relevant and engaging learning to your art room the very next day.

» RELEVANT

At Waldorf University, you can expect to receive an education that will strengthen your teaching effectiveness, refine your leadership skills and grow your potential in the education field.

the art of education
UNIVERSITY

FOR MORE INFORMATION CONTACT:

aoeu-waldorfpathway@theartofeducation.edu

or 641-323-6769

waldorf.edu/aoeu

WALDORF
UNIVERSITY